

Course: Data Structures and Algorithms

Programming Activity

1. Implement the sequential (linear) search and the binary search in C++.
2. Run tests with different input sizes for both methods. Write down the running times.
3. Construct a graphic showing the running time and comparing both methods.